FEARRINGTON INTRODUCES NEW NEIGHBORHOOD FOR 2018

Farrington Village, NC – Last month, Farrington Village announced the opening of its newest neighborhood, Richmond Close. Future Richmond residents will enjoy the neighborhood’s convenient location, with an easy walk to both the Village Center and Duke Center for Living. The neighborhood consists of two cul-de-sacs of 21 homesites set among stunning woods.

“Richmond is the perfect neighborhood for custom single-family homes,” said Laura Morgan, Real Estate General Manager. “With different lot shapes and sizes, interesting topography and varying exposures, homebuyers can create their own completely unique home.”

The homesites in Richmond Close vary in size, exposure and topography. The new neighborhood accesses Farrington’s trail system, with easy connection to the Village Center. Mature wooded areas and two creeks surround the area, giving the neighborhood a one-of-a-kind natural landscape.

Building in Richmond Close is simple. Homebuyers select their homesite and move-in date, then personalize their custom home with interior finishes and options. All homesites offer homebuyers complete customization, from exteriors to floorplans, cabinetry, countertops and more. Homebuyers work with our architectural designer and interior design specialist in Farrington’s on-site Design Center, where they can select options such as crown molding, bathroom fixtures, countertops and much more.

Homesites in Richmond are going quickly. Interested homebuyers can learn more by contacting the Real Estate Sales team via email homes@farrington.com, phone at 919.542.2121, stopping by the sales office Monday-Friday 9am-5pm or Saturday 10am-4pm, or visiting online at www.farrington.com/richmond.
